Clash Royale Competitive Content & Deck Rules

Eligible Content

All cards, Tower Troops, Evolutions, game features, and in-game content available in the approved competition environment are eligible unless restricted by Tournament Administration. Players are responsible for ensuring that their registered account has access to the content they intend to use.

Duels Format and Unique Deck Requirement

Unless otherwise communicated by Tournament Administration, all official Series shall use the Duels Format or Manual Duels equivalent. In each Series, a Player must use a unique deck for each Game. Players may not use the same card in more than one (1) Game within the same Series. A normal card and its Card Evolution equivalent shall be considered the same card for this purpose and may not be used in more than one deck within the same Series. The same Tower Troop card may be used in multiple decks unless Tournament Administration communicates otherwise. Players are responsible for verifying that all decks comply with the Duels Format before entering each Game. A Player who enters a Game with an illegal deck, duplicate card, restricted card, or otherwise non-compliant content may receive a Game loss, Series loss, or further penalty depending on the circumstances.

Deck Preparation and Visibility

Players may prepare or adjust decks only during the official setup period and between Games in a Series, as permitted by Tournament Administration. Players must not intentionally reveal, hide, misrepresent, or manipulate deck information in a way that violates official procedures or competitive integrity.
